Dear Prof. Dhuliya,

Greetings from Commonwealth Educational Media Centre for Asia (CEMCA).

Within the framework of its mandate to promote learning for development, CEMCA has been actively engaged in using Community Radio (CR) as a tool to provide access to learning opportunities. To further enhance access to audio-based learning and using digital technologies, CEMCA is encouraging communities to set-up Internet based radio, also called Web Radio. Towards this end, CEMCA has partnered with Gram Vaani Community Media, a group known for their innovative use of technology, to develop a detailed how-to manual for setting up Web Radio. The draft manual is ready for testing and operationalization. We are holding a three-day workshop on 1-3 May, 2013 at New Delhi for a step-by-step hands-on demonstration for setting up a Web Radio.

We are pleased to invite you to nominate two persons with basic ICT and Internet skills from your institution to attend this workshop. CEMCA will be pleased to make arrangements for your team to attend the workshop by covering travel cost between Haldwani -Delhi- Haldwani and accommodation for 3 nights. The participants should reach Delhi by 30 April 2013.

Upon confirmation of participation, CEMCA will facilitate travel arrangements.

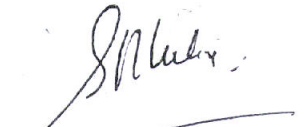

Please send your nomination to Ms. Monica Sharma (msharma@col.org) with copy to Ms. Rukmini Vemraju rvemraju@col.org. They will also be happy to provide any other information regarding the workshop.
